

celebrating scrapbooking

LIFESTYLE May is National Scrapbooking Month, a time set aside by the National Scrapbook Association to celebrate the art of scrapbooking—and really, what better way is there to preserve the memories you’ve shared with your loved ones than putting pictures and ink to paper? Whether you delight in spending hours placing just the right finishing touches on a single page, or you hurriedly fit as many photos on one page as you can, scrapbooks are the perfect way to preserve special memories and fun times. Long after the birthday cakes are eaten or the beach sand has finally worn off, a scrapbook will help you recall those moments we all forget too quickly, and immediately transport you back to a cherished time and place.
